

Dr. Minyi Li

Biography

Minyi Li is an academic in the Faculty of IT (Clayton). Her research interests include preference representation, reasoning, and learning, computational social choice, collective decision-making, and multi-agent systems. She is particularly interested in application areas of recommendation systems, smart energy, traffic management and optimisation, etc.

Qualifications